Fortunately, numerous products can be manufactured from recycled carpets, including carpet backing and backing components, carpet fiber, carpet underlayment, plastics and engineered materials, and erosion control products. Several carpet recycling facilities currently operate in California, offering jobs, and producing products and feedstock for products made from recycled carpet. The RMDZ program serves an important role in facilitating the development of this recycling and manufacturing infrastructure and creating local jobs. At the last Zone Works we learned also about the greenhouse gas emission reduction benefits of carpet recycling as it relates to local and statewide climate action planning. In follow-up, this session focuses on the carpet industry as it relates to product stewardship in California. Session topics will address the status of California's Carpet Stewardship Program, perspectives from the Carpet America Recovery Effort, a third-party nonprofit carpet stewardship organization, and insights from a California carpet recycling company. Please come prepared with information about your local carpet recycling efforts, including specific lessons learned, resources, successes, etc.

Session II: Peer Share

Moderator: Maureen Hart, North Coast RMDZ

Armond Arakelian, Operations Manager, Soex Textile Recycling, Fresno

After tackling the technical aspects of carpet recycling, we will drill down deeper with respect to recent local efforts, lessons learned, related resources. The goal of this session is to take the information from the previous session as well as our collective peer experience and knowledge to define specific actions for our Zone action planning. Please come prepared to share and discuss the following:

- Some of you have experience with carpet recycling or know someone in your area that has. Pull together your area's experience regarding carpet recycling past and present. What are or could be challenges of implementing carpet recycling. What solutions have worked? Could work?
- Who will do carpet recycling in your area? How will it be done? What issues are you running into as you organize for carpet recycling? Collecting, baling, storage, shipping, profit or loss? Market Development?
- How could CalRecycle and the Zones work together on some of these challenges?

4:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Session III: Updating the RMDZ General Criteria

Moderator: Jim LaTanner, CalRecycle

For nearly a year CalRecycle has been soliciting stakeholder feedback on the RMDZ general criteria, including a survey to Zone Administrators and discussions at CARMDZ meetings, Zone Works training workshop sessions, and Touch Base meetings. In response to Zone Administrator request, CalRecycle prepared and distributed a Discussion of Revisions to the Recycling Market Development Zone (RMDZ) General Loan Eligibility Criteria, July 7, 2011, summarizing this stakeholder engagement process, an analysis of the findings, and recommendations. This session offers a summary of the accomplishments of the CalRecycle RMDZ loan program and a review of the general loan criteria proposed for updating, followed by questions and answers.
