WSPPN Position on HF

- WSPPN is a communications conduit on issues affecting our water supply, water contamination and waste streams
- WSPPN supports a balanced information-exchange among the energy industry, the water industry and citizens and communities.
- We are concerned with the long-term environmental sustainability of water supply sources and water-dependent ecosystems.
- We desire to educate our audience on this issue and provide real information on HF.

What Do We Need to Know?

- An education on the real story behind HF and the implications for ground water, pollutants, and resource use.
- What P2 and Hazardous Waste professionals need to know about HF and what can be done do to protect natural resources?
- Who are the players in the industry and what's going down in terms of HF in California?

What Can WSPPN Do?

- Collect Accurate Information on Hydraulic Fracturing and Make Available to the P2 Community
- Promote other forums such as this conference that bring experts together
- Organize a nationwide Webinar
- Facilitate a Case Study

The Truth about Hydraulic Fracturing

This panel of experts explores the tremendous energy opportunity and exposes potential hazards for water contamination and waste management. It is a balanced dialog with several speakers representing different viewpoints about an inevitable future.

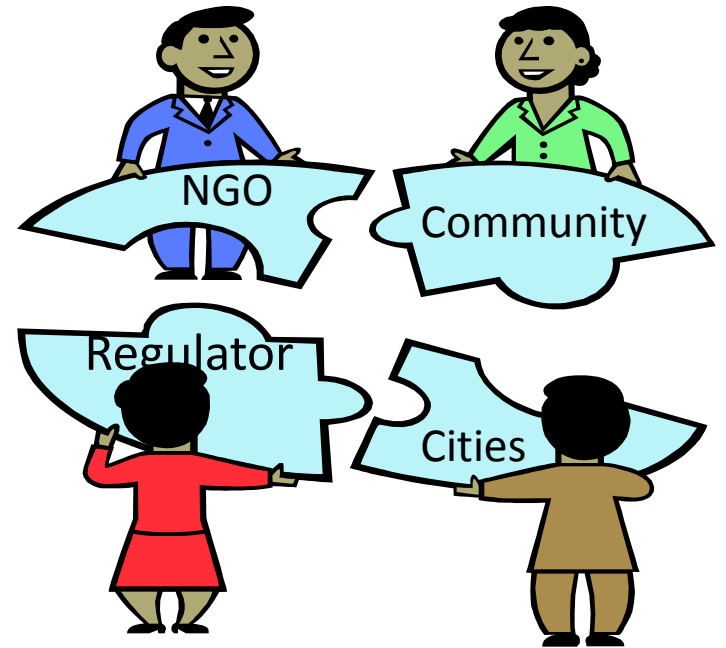

- Moderator: Al Hurt, Mission Services, Sullivan International Group, Inc., San Diego, CA
- Andrew Stone, Executive Director, American Ground Water Trust, Concord, NH
- Don Clarke, Geologist/ Director, Petroleum Technology Transfer Council, Lakewood, CA
- Andrew Grinberg, Oil and Gas Program Coordinator, Clean Water Action, Oakland, CA
- Katharine Moore, Ph.D., Senate Natural Resources and Water Committee, Sacramento, CA on behalf of California Senator Fran Pavley
