Why Did I Create ECM?

The Problem

A photograph showing a vast, chaotic pile of discarded clothing and fabric waste in a landfill. The scene is dominated by bright red, blue, and teal fabrics, with some white plastic bags visible. The background shows a dense layer of similar waste stretching into the distance under bright sunlight.

A fashion show runway scene featuring a model in a vibrant red, off-the-shoulder, floor-length gown with a draped bodice and a matching sash tied at the waist. The model is walking towards the camera on a white runway. The background is a simple, light-colored wall. In the lower corners, the legs and feet of other models or audience members are partially visible.
